Changing Seasons

Hello Again Friends. Summer is almost gone and Fall is fast approaching.

I look forward to each new season as there is something exciting about each phase of this earth's amazing cycle.

In the fall there is something invigorating about the cooler weather, the harvest and the brilliant colors all around us.

We can see the faithfulness of God in the regularity with which the seasons come and go.

He says in Genesis 8:22 "As long as the earth remains, there will be planting & harvest, cold & heat, summer & winter, day & night.

We can see in our lives the changing of the seasons as well.

We can trust in God's never fading love as we journey through these changes and know he will bring us safely through if we hold tightly to his hand.

Blessings to you as you put your hand in his.
